ANNOUNCEMENT

This issue of the Bibliography of Agriculture contains a detailed subject index, in addition to the monthly indexes of personal and organizational names.

The use of computers for processing makes it possible to provide detailed subject access to the citations listed in the Bibliography each month, as well as once a year. (The previous method of production allowed for an annual subject index only.)

Your comments are invited on how the monthly subject index improves the usefulness of this publication.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF AGRICULTURE

Vol. 31 November 1967 No. 11

The Bibliography of Agriculture is an index to the literature of agriculture and the allied sciences received in the National Agricultural Library. Publications from any country are indexed, provided they are in one of the languages shown in CAPITALS at top of next column, or have summaries, abstracts, or translated titles in one of those languages.

Literature received more than one year after publication is generally not indexed. Exceptions are made for important scientific publications.

Indexing of articles on the processing of agricultural products is limited to those on primary processing.

Unsigned articles and those signed with pseudonyms or initials, editorials, letters to the editor, and columns appearing regularly, are omitted.

For more detailed coverage of the literature on pests and their control, please consult the Pesticides Documentation Bulletin, a biweekly publication of the National Agricultural Library.

FORMAT

The Bibliography is a classified arrangement of references under the following subjects:

Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology

Agricultural Products

Animal Industry

The classified section is followed by the listing of:

New Periodicals and Serials
